USA Sports Production Management

USA Sports was established in 2003 by Linda Barclay and Robert Neat, both former employees of USA Gymnastics and a lifetime in gymnastics as gymnasts, coaches, judges and club owners. Prior to starting USA Sports Production, for more than two decades, Linda was heavily involved in events with USA Gymnastics. Serving as their Director of Events. Linda had responsibilities for all USA gymnastics televised national and international championships as well as competition organization for the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta and Meet Director for the 2003 World Championships held in Anaheim, CA. Bob served as the Production Manager creating promotional event marketing videos and educational videos for program and resale. Remember Flip the Monkey, the USA Gymnastics mascot? . . . Bob put on the monkey suit a number of times and performed for spectator enjoyment at the televised events. Both Linda and Bob understand the sport of gymnastics and how to host an event at the highest level for all of the gymnastics disciplines. It is their goal to provide a first class, contemporary state of the art competition where all participants can share in a great competition experience and walk out the door saying I can't wait to come back next year!
